

Our Village, Our City

Chapter 4: Our Village, Our City · Topic 1

Key Concept

Villages are smaller settlements, often surrounded by farmland, where many people work in agriculture and know each other well.

Cities are larger settlements with more buildings, traffic, and job opportunities, often having more facilities like hospitals and malls.

Life in villages is often quieter and closer to nature, while city life can be busier with more conveniences and options.

Both villages and cities are important, each contributing differently to our country's overall development and food supply.

Quick Revision Notes

- Villages: smaller settlements, farmland nearby.
- Villagers often work in agriculture.
- Cities: larger settlements, more buildings.
- Cities have more facilities, job opportunities.
- Village life: quieter, closer to nature.
- City life: busier, more conveniences.
- Both are important for the country.
- They contribute differently to development.

Practice Questions

- 1 Discuss whether you live in a village or city.
- 2 Compare village and city life.
- 3 Draw a picture of a village scene.
- 4 Draw a picture of a city scene.
- 5 Discuss one benefit of village life.
- 6 Discuss one benefit of city life.