

Living Together in a Community

Chapter 6: Living in Harmony · Topic 1

Key Concept

Communities include neighbours, local shops, schools, and public places, all working together to make daily life easier for everyone.

Living in a community means following shared rules, like keeping public places clean and respecting others' space and privacy.

Communities often work together during difficult times, like helping neighbours during an emergency, showing the importance of cooperation.

A good community member contributes positively, like being polite, helping others, and taking part in community activities or events.

Quick Revision Notes

- A community is a group of people living in the same area.
- Communities include neighbours, shops, schools and public places.
- Community members follow shared rules.
- Keeping public places clean is a community responsibility.
- Communities cooperate during emergencies.
- Cooperation is important in a community.
- A good community member helps others and is polite.
- Participating in community events strengthens bonds.

Practice Questions

- 1 List three ways you can help your community.
- 2 Discuss a rule that helps your community function well.
- 3 Talk about a time your community helped someone.
- 4 Participate in or discuss a community event.
- 5 Draw a picture of your community.
- 6 Explain why cooperation matters in a community.