

Grammar - Nouns and Pronouns

Chapter 1: Grammar - Nouns and Pronouns · Topic 1

Key Concept

A noun names a person (boy), place (school), or thing (book), and every sentence usually has at least one noun.

A pronoun is a word that replaces a noun, like 'he,' 'she,' 'it,' or 'they,' to avoid repeating the same noun again and again.

For example, instead of saying 'Rahul went to Rahul's school,' we say 'Rahul went to his school,' using the pronoun 'his.'

Using pronouns correctly makes our sentences shorter and easier to read, avoiding unnecessary repetition of nouns.

Quick Revision Notes

- Noun names a person, place, or thing.
- Examples: boy, school, book.
- Pronoun replaces a noun.
- Examples: he, she, it, they.
- This avoids repeating the same noun.
- Example: 'his' instead of 'Rahul's'.
- Pronouns make sentences shorter.
- They make sentences easier to read.
