

Our Country India

Chapter 5: Our Country India · Topic 1

Key Concept

India has 28 states and several union territories, each with its own language, culture, and traditions.

India has diverse geography, including the Himalayan mountains, the Thar Desert, fertile plains, and a long coastline.

India celebrates many festivals throughout the year, like Diwali, Eid, and Christmas, reflecting its religious diversity.

India's capital is New Delhi, and the country has a rich history, including ancient civilisations and its independence movement.

Quick Revision Notes

- India has 28 states and union territories.
- Each state has its own language and culture.
- India has diverse geography.
- This includes the Himalayas, Thar Desert and plains.
- India has a long coastline.
- India celebrates festivals like Diwali, Eid and Christmas.
- India's capital is New Delhi.
- India has a rich history and diverse culture.

Practice Questions

- 1 Name three states of India.
- 2 Discuss a festival celebrated in your area.
- 3 Draw a map of India showing its capital.
- 4 Research a geographic feature of India.
- 5 Discuss why India is called diverse.
- 6 List three languages spoken in India.