

The Constitution's working depends on cooperation and mutual respect between different government branches and levels for effective governance.

Quick Revision Notes

- Separation of powers: legislature, executive, judiciary.
- This ensures checks and balances.
- Judicial review: courts examine law compliance.
- Checks if actions comply with Constitution.
- Federal structure: power-sharing, central-state.
- Constitution defines their jurisdictions.
- Working depends on branch cooperation.
- Mutual respect ensures effective governance.

Practice Questions

- 1 Discuss the roles of legislature, executive, judiciary.
- 2 Research an example of judicial review in India.
- 3 Discuss how federal structure shares power.
- 4 Discuss why checks and balances matter.
- 5 Research a case of inter-branch cooperation.
- 6 Explain the Constitution's working in your own words.