

While using different methods than non-violent movements, revolutionaries shared the common goal of achieving India's complete independence.

Quick Revision Notes

- Revolutionary groups active in Bengal, Punjab, Maharashtra.
- They believed in armed resistance.
- Figures: Bhagat Singh, Chandrashekhar Azad.
- They directly challenged British authority.
- Revolutionaries faced severe consequences.
- This included imprisonment, execution.
- Different methods than non-violent movements.
- Shared goal: India's complete independence.

Practice Questions

- 1 Research Bhagat Singh's contributions to the freedom struggle.
- 2 Research Chandrashekhar Azad's activities.
- 3 Discuss the difference between armed and non-violent resistance.
- 4 Discuss the consequences revolutionaries faced.
- 5 Discuss why some chose armed resistance.
- 6 Explain the shared goal of all freedom fighters.