

Our Community Life

Chapter 7: Our Community Life · Topic 1

Key Concept

A community includes people living in the same area, like a village, town, or city, sharing common resources and facilities.

Community members help each other, celebrate festivals together, and work towards common goals like cleanliness and safety.

Rules and cooperation are important in a community to make sure everyone can live together peacefully and happily.

Being a good community member means respecting others, following rules, and contributing positively to community life.

Quick Revision Notes

- A community is a group living in the same area.
- Examples: village, town, city.
- They share common resources, facilities.
- Members help each other, celebrate together.
- They work towards common goals.
- Rules and cooperation matter in community.
- This helps peaceful, happy living.
- Good members respect others, follow rules.

Practice Questions

- 1 Discuss what makes your community special.
- 2 List two ways community members help each other.
- 3 Discuss a festival celebrated in your community.
- 4 Talk about a community rule you follow.
- 5 Draw a picture of your community.
- 6 Discuss how you can be a good community member.