

My Family and Me

Chapter 1: My Family and Me · Topic 1

Key Concept

A family includes people like mother, father, sister, brother, grandmother, and grandfather who live together and take care of each other.

Every person in our family has a name, and we should respect and love all our family members equally.

We are special because each of us has our own name, likes, dislikes, and things we are good at doing.

Families help and support each other, share happy and sad times together, and teach us good values.

Quick Revision Notes

- A family includes mother, father, siblings, grandparents.
- They live together and care for each other.
- Every family member has a name.
- We should respect and love our family.
- Each person is special and unique.
- We all have likes and dislikes.
- Families support each other.
- They teach us good values.

Practice Questions

- 1 Draw a picture of your family.
- 2 Name the members of your family.
- 3 Talk about something you like doing with your family.
- 4 Discuss why we should love our family.
- 5 Name one thing your family teaches you.
- 6 Draw yourself and write one thing you are good at.