

Famous Landmarks and Monuments

Chapter 6: Some Unique Places · Topic 2

Key Concept

The Taj Mahal in Agra, built by Shah Jahan, is a UNESCO World Heritage Site and one of the Seven Wonders of the World, known for its stunning white marble architecture.

The Qutub Minar in Delhi is one of the tallest brick minarets in the world, showcasing Indo-Islamic architecture from centuries ago.

India Gate in Delhi is a war memorial honouring soldiers who died in World War I, standing as an important national symbol.

These landmarks attract millions of visitors each year and are protected as important parts of India's cultural and historical heritage.

Quick Revision Notes

- The Taj Mahal is in Agra, built by Shah Jahan.
- The Taj Mahal is a UNESCO World Heritage Site.
- The Taj Mahal is one of the Seven Wonders of the World.
- The Qutub Minar is in Delhi, a tall brick minaret.
- India Gate is a war memorial in Delhi.
- India Gate honours soldiers from World War I.
- These landmarks attract millions of visitors.
- Landmarks are protected as cultural heritage.

Practice Questions

- 1 Research one famous Indian landmark in detail.
- 2 Draw a picture of a landmark you find interesting.
- 3 Discuss why the Taj Mahal is considered a wonder of the world.
- 4 Find a landmark near your city or state.
- 5 Explain why landmarks are protected as heritage.
- 6 Compare two famous Indian landmarks.